

NEHA Certificate of Merit

Each year, CEHA can nominate someone to receive the NEHA Certificate of Achievement. This year our nominee is a true "foodie!" For those who know him and work in retail food, I probably don't have to say more. This person has more than 20+ years of expertise in the food protection programs throughout Colorado. Some of our board members work with food safety programs throughout Colorado and he is wide known for his knowledge and helpful nature. His involvement in various committees, regulation reviews, and other food safety related issues is respected throughout the state and Colorado food safety colleagues new and old continually refer to him for his expertise. He also is the only one I know that has every food code, act, and regulation printed out, which he carries with him everywhere. He has been a long time supporter and member of CEHA. This years NEHA Certificate of Merit goes to Jim Devore, Retail Food Program Manager at Larimer County.
